

Overton
Memorial
Library

Library Funds

William Delona and Othella Tuten McMeans Memorial Library Fund

The William Delona and Othella Tuten McMeans Memorial Library Fund was established by their son David in April 2004. While these moneys are intended primarily to purchase books, the only restriction placed on the fund is that its resources shall be used to procure holdings for Overton Memorial Library.

Overton Memorial Library Fund

The Overton Memorial Library Endowment Fund was established on October 9, 2002. The purpose of the endowment fund is to assist the growth and development of Overton Memorial Library on the campus of Heritage Christian University. The money raised and generated for the fund shall be spent for items needed in Overton Memorial Library, primarily books.

We offer multiple options for giving to the Overton Memorial Library. These include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Gifts of books and materials
- Monetary gifts for the purchase of books and materials
- Gifts in memory or in honor of others
- Membership in Friends of the Overton Memorial Library
- Establishment of library endowments
- Gifts to existing library endowments

Those wanting to donate to the library, please notify Jamie Cox, Director of Library Services, at 256.766.6610 or jcox@hcu.edu.